DES MOINES CONFERENCE

Twenty-three delegates to the "Y" conference in Des Moines, Iowa, was the enthusiastic reply of the assembled Varsity students last Sunday evening. Twenty-three of our best, too, if one can judge the enthusiasm correctly. Such is the result of the inspiring speeches of Pres. Klinck, Capt. Corbett and Capt. Trevett.

Capt. Corbett opened the campaign by briefly telling of the Y's and incidentally his own work in connection with interned prisoners of war in Holland. To see that the men were well fed in spite of lack of meat, butter fat and other essentials was his and the Y's ambition. Capt. Corbett's anecdotes of his attempts at diplomacy, so that the men might be fed, cheered and entertained, were highly entertaining;—fancy giving a banker a pound of tea to gain his favor. Then to see the Kaiser, just as he came into Holland! Who would not be a Y man?

The oft-disputed question of what should happen to the former emperor was settled in quite a few minds, at least, by the apt parallel drawn between his stately appearance at the Venice pageant before the war, and his world-weary expression as he sat looking out of the window of his train that bleak, November morning.

With everybody's interest firmly fixed, President Klinck, of British Columbia University, concisely and plainly outlined the difficulties there in the Y work, and also what they were going to do. A great deal of credit is due to this young university for continuing in its work along this line, when executive after executive was absorbed into the army. In President Klinck's opinion, one cannot realize how worth while the Y is until one has either attended a Y convention or has come under the leadership and enthusiasm of one who has been there. As to who should go, his opinion for present good was a senior as a delegate, but for a longer period of benefit, a student whose college career is yet largely ahead of him. With this in view, British Columbia, in spite of added expense and remoteness, is going to send a full delegation.

The stage being set, Capt. Trevett added the final touch by showing the good things in store for the delegates and eventually us. When they can bring a man from Africa to make a twenty-minute speech, is there any doubt but that they will get Viscount Grey, Drs. Mott and Speer, and perhaps, President Wilson? These men will handle the large meetings, while a number of prominent missionary, educational and business leaders, will take charge of sectional meeting on two or three afternoons. A special favor has been granted to Canadians. The day before the opening has been set aside as our day. Capt. Trevett is in charge, and is anxious to make it the big day for Canadian Y men.

The convention is from December 30th to January 4th. Since we get the benefit, we contribute. The names of the men to be sent from our university can be seen on the Bulletin Board.

VISIT OF GODOWSKY

All musically inclined students will be delighted to know that Godowsky, the famous pianist, has been persuaded to give a concert in Edmonton on November 21st. It is an excellent symptom of the revival of Edmonton's interest in things artistic, that an effort was made for Godowsky to come, and we are delighted that the effort has been crowned with success.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF STUDENT VETERANS

On Thursday evening, October 30th, the President of the University received a telegram from Manitoba College Returned Soldiers Association asking that the U. of A. returned men send with them and other University Returned Soldiers Associations, a delegate to the Dominion Government to ask for financial aid for students whose studies were broken by the war, and who now find extreme difficulty in proceeding with studies, owing to the impossibility of earning sufficient money in the summer to see them through their Winter college course under present conditions.

The President called a meeting of returned men that same evening and with an audience of over eighty, discussed the question. It was arranged to send wires through to the University of Saskatchewan and to the University of British Columbia asking what they were going to do in the matter, and to hold another meeting on Saturday, November 1st, when answers would be received from these universities and

ATHLETICS

RUGBY

On account of the weather, rugby games in Edmonton have been impossible. It has been decided that the play-off for the championship shall take place in Calgary, where the fall of snow is much lighter. The games will be between the Calgary Canucks and 'Varsity. Should 'Varsity win the first game, a second game will be necessary to decide the championship. Should the Canucks win the first, however, they will have won the championship. The 'Varsity team has been training indoors every day and go to Calgary Friday night with high hopes of "bringing home the bacon."

BASKETBALL

During the week a meeting was held, and the officers and executive for the House League were appointed. J. L. Lillico was elected president, E. C. Snider, secretary-treasurer, with an executive, consisting of McAllister, Banks and Love. It was decided to have sixteen teams in the league, and the prospective players were divided into as many groups. These groups were picked in such a way that they would be of an even strength as much as possible. This will ensure the greatest amount of interest in the league, and also prevent a "walk-away" by any one team. League games are expected to start during the second week in November.

HOCKEY

Despite the cold weather, little has as yet been done in this line. As yet no definite leagues have been formed in which 'Varsity might compete. A league of senior calibre is under consideration, and a meeting is called, sometime during the first week in November.

Prospective teams for this league are: Fort Saskatchewan, Y.M.C.A., Knights of Columbus, South Siders and 'Varsity. Considerable class is expected from such a league as this and there is in the background a series between the winners and the winners of the Big Four League, for the championship of Alberta. This is as yet still conjecture. There will be, in all likelihood, an Intermediate League for a 'Varsity second team. The most important step of all towards a successful hockey season for 'Varsity would be the starting of work on the 'Varsity rink at once.

TRACK CLUB NOTES

Considerable indoor practice is being done by men who are trying to make the Track Team. This team, when picked, will represent the University at the Provincial Indoor Championship meet. The meet takes place on November 21st, in the Armouries, and will be the premier athletic meet of the year. For further particulars, see H. J. MacDonald.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS SECURE INDEPENDENCE

Edna Bakewell, carrying all opposition before her, secured the independence of women's athletics last Tuesday at the Students' Union meeting. Miss Bakewell, in a very eloquent speech, told the men what they should do and what the women were trying to do. To get away from the petty high school and small town competition should be the true ambition of the university. The remark that the university should get a paid coach was greeted with enthusiastic applause. Mr. Becker asked where the money for our combats with eastern universities was going to come from. Miss Bakewell concluded by saying that it was not traditional in any institution other than this for the men's and women's athletics to be unseparated.

The only opposition to the motion came from Kemper Broadus and Jack Arkin. Broadus believed that better results could be obtained if the women were given adequate representation on the athletic executive. Arkin believed that this move was merely another nail in the high board fence which was dividing Athabasca and Pembina Halls.

A number of men and several women discussed the resolution from the affirmative side and the resolution passed, giving the women independence in athletics, which includes representation for the women's athletic association on the council and the right to bring in a separate budget.

A short discussion followed as to whether the Wauneitas were a major department in which President Reilly expressed

LITERARY DEPARTMENT

The Literary Department puts on its first concert on Thursday, November 6th. It will open with an overture by the University Orchestra, which has already started to gain laurels. Following that, there will be a number of solos, choruses, and musical selections, given by the McDougall Choir, which happens to be composed of many artists, including among others, Miss Audren Martin, the winner of the Girl's Solo Competition, for the current year.

As mentioned before, Dr. Tory will lecture on the Khaki University, with which he has had so much experience. This number will probably be in the middle of the programme, so that any who come in late, will have an opportunity of hearing him.

The programme is to begin at 7:30 p.m. and will probably last for two hours. All students and the public are invited to attend.

THE DANSANT

One of the happiest fêtes of this season was the Thè Dansant, given by the Women's University Club in Convocation Hall, Saturday afternoon.

The Hall was charmingly decorated in Halloween colors, flowering plants adorned the tea tables and softly shaded lights gave a holiday appearance to the throng of students and their friends who were present.

Smiles of appreciation greeted the generous encores of the orchestra and every inch of dancing space was put to most profitable use.

Mrs. Dickson, president; and Mrs. Kerr, received the guests and tea was served by the members of the club, including Mrs. Killam, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Race, Miss Misener, Miss Lloyd, Miss Montgomery, Miss Stewart, Miss Teskey, Miss Howard, Miss Chauvin, Miss Grierson, Miss Anderson, Miss Pheasey, Miss Barclay, Miss Crawford and Miss Maguire.

Much of the credit for the splendid success of the affair is due to Mrs. Morrison and her committee, Miss Patrick, Miss Borden and Miss Wilson, who had charge of the arrangements for music and refreshments.

We are ardently hoping that our enthusiastic approval of the Dansant will encourage the club to give us another in the near future. We could find time for at least two each month.

LETTERS OF A FRESHMAN

Dear Brother,—

Well, Percival, we are all settled down now, as sweet and cozy as if we were at home with our dear mamas. Of course, the boys here are not very gentlemanly, but I am not having very much to do with them.

I wish you were here, Percival, because you might be able to explain some of the queer happenings here that I do not understand. As it is, you may be able to tell me the reason for some of the actions of the boys. For instance, the first day I was here, someone came up to me and said, "Why don't you wear the colors." I told him, mama told me never to use rouge, and he didn't seem to understand at all, but said a naughty word and wrote my name down in a little book. I wonder why he did it.

And then a few weeks later, they took a whole lot of us and tied us up and did all kinds of nasty things to us. I went next day to the principal and told him all about it, but he said that it was done every year, and he could not help it. But I don't think it was very nice of them, do you?

Please tell mama to send me some more milk tablets, because they want us to drink tea at meals, and mama said that it wasn't good for me to take anything but milk.

Love to Sister Susie,

Your Devoted Brother,

William.

EDITORIAL

Our first issue seems fated each year, as it would appear impossible to open our Gateway programme without some leading member of the staff being affected. After the record of the past two years, in which the Editor in each case was down with the flu, or some other such trouble, we were almost afraid to begin operations this year. Just as we were busy with the "ads" at the beginning of last week our Business Manager decided that it was his turn to be the "goat" this year, and we much regret that he is now a patient in the Isolation Hospital. We are informed, however, that his case is not at all serious and trust that soon we will have our aggressive and enterprising B.M. back with us again.

S.C.R. AND THE STUDENT

The outstanding question in the minds of a large number of our students this week has been the "Bonus for Returned Soldiers." We were much disappointed in the unfavorable decision of the committee at Ottawa, and there has been a cry in many places throughout the Dominion, of "Down with the Union Government!"

The Universities, however, are determined not to let the matter drop just yet, and a movement is under way to send a delegation from the various institutions to interview the "powers that be" at Ottawa, and see if some assistance cannot be given to those veterans whose studies have been interrupted, and who are still anxious to "carry on," if they are provided with the means to do so. This matter is dealt with in detail in another column, and we trust that the effort will not be in vain.

AMERICAN STUDENT CONFERENCE

Another live question with many of our students at present is the Des Moines Conference to be held in Iowa during the Christmas vacation. This matter should interest every student and we would urge that the Bulletin Boards be closely watched for further developments. We invite free discussion on this subject from all students, and hope to publish full information regarding preparations for the conference from time to time.

THE WAUNEITA SOCIAL

Visitors to Convocation Hall on the evening of Thursday, Oct. 30th, would hardly have known the large room in its gay Halloween trappings. Miss G. Jackson, Miss J. McIntosh, and all their assistants are to be congratulated upon the magic transformation which took place. Jack O'Lantern beamed down upon the assembled company as only he can beam; paper witches and black cats were seen watching the fun; while the soft, orange lights seemed to throw a glamour o'er the scene.

In order to make the various guests feel at home, gay tags, bearing their owner's names, were pinned on coats and dresses. The patronesses for the evening were Mrs. Tory, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Broadus, Miss Misener and Mrs. Sheldon.

For an hour or more, games were the order of the day. It was truly a wonderful sight to see many of the sober and studious young students of Medicine and Law making frantic but futile efforts to dig their jaws into rosy apples, dangling so tantalizingly from their strips. Brightly colored streamers suddenly shot from nowhere, and entangled the merry groups as they stood talking and laughing. Some unfortunate beings suddenly found their hands tied to the hands of other unfortunate beings, while a merciless voice told them to extricate themselves in whatever way they could. The games were under the control of Miss G. Johnson, and Miss B. Timmons.

When the games were over, the University Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Chadsey, "piped up" a merry tune, and it was not long before the Halloween revellers were seen whirling 'round the room.

Refreshments were served during the evening. Rumor whispers that Miss Q. Kelly and Miss E. Bakewell had much to do with the success of this part of the entertainment.

When at last the happy party came to an end, all the young gentlemen guests seemed to have been converted to the opinion that the Wauneita Society was not such a bad institution after all.

THE GLEE CLUB

Reports from this section are promising in most respects. Singers, especially for the soprano and alto parts, are still in demand, and it is understood that both Mr. Barford and Mr. Putland would welcome additions to their ranks. Several practises have now been held, and few can afford to miss any more. You are not being canvassed, but if you can sing, you are more than welcome.

COMMUNICATIONS

"AMONG THOSE PRESENT"

The Editor of The Gateway,

Dear Sir,—

On various occasions, following University functions, one must surely be impressed on opening the pages of a morning paper, to see under the above headline, a list of names which varies very little from time to time. To the outsider, who reads the social column, the impression must be carried that only a few people attend University functions; secondly, that the University must have a small number of students attending, and also that apparently the same small few attend the functions from time to time. I am not acquainted with the person or persons who are responsible for the reporting of such functions to the local press, but at any rate, I believe that any sane being will agree that it is high time that such a practice should be dispensed with. Would the persons who, in future, report such events, kindly remember a few points. First: that this is a University, and not some social society. Secondly: that all students who come to it are placed on the same level in our University life. There is no such thing as class distinction here, although some would probably like to have such. We all pay the same rate of fees, eat at a common table, and attend the same lectures.

Class distinction is fast disappearing in other places; should it not do so here? We should be abreast of the times, not behind them.

A word to the wise is sufficient.

Observer.

DEBATING SOCIETY

On Thursday, October 30th, an introductory sample of the coming activities of the Debating Society, was provided along with an outline of the same. While the former may not have been in President Dunham's mind, it was like the uninvited guest: it broke in.

Starting promptly at five p.m., Mr. Dunham outlined the course for the coming year. In brief, it consisted of a debate every other week, and a forum every second week; these meetings to be held at five p.m. every Thursday. At a previous meeting, it seems the executive had been given "Supreme" authority to arrange the matters of programs, even down to the assignment of those who were to speak on the affirmative side, and those who were to speak on the negative side. The meeting was small, and somewhat overawed by the stern mien of the chairman, yet so far displayed their love of democracy, so to shift restlessly in their seats.

A number of late-comers now began to come in, and though latent rebellion was prevalent a moment before, it vanished as a look of inexpressible sadness, a look that many an actor or actress might find it worth while to cultivate, came upon the face of him who had the best reason to resent the late intrusion. When all had taken their seats, the explanation continued in the shape of a synopsis of what had gone on before.

It is hardly necessary to explain what the rules and conduct of a straight debate are, but perhaps not so many are familiar with the "forum." In this, a speaker will put forth one side of an argument, and then the meeting will be open to all who wish to pick that argument to pieces. Great stress was laid upon the fact that all should familiarize themselves with the subject to be discussed, in order to have good criticism to offer. The coming forum of November 6th, will be a discussion of "Direct Legislation." It is not known yet who will be the critic.

After restricting the invitation to join the Debating Society to those only who could dispense with Bolshevism, the president took his seat. Many now signed their names as an expression of a desire to become members, and then one after another began to show their distaste of the word "supreme." Although the arguments were not in prepared form, they nevertheless gave an inkling of what might be expected at the coming forums. No vote was taken to find the pleasure of the meeting regarding the authority the executive held, as this was ruled out of order by Mr. Dunham.

The question of Intercollegiate Debates was brought forward, and it was decided that we communicate with the Universities of Saskatchewan and British Columbia, regarding this matter. The chairman was quite certain that at least one trip for an intercollegiate debate could be arranged.

Although the hour of sin was drawing nigh, still another question was brought up. One member was quite certain that the non-resident lovers of debating would have no hesitation in coming over in the evening. Too many, however, were as equally certain that the interests of studies, sports, street cars and such like reasons would interfere with the evening hour.

Gastronomic reasons made a motion to adjourn in order, and a hurried departure was made. One question in the minds of many was left unanswered, but, in certain circles, it was whispered that the advisability of cutting the trailing locks of some of our female students to a suitable length, would be suggested to the executive. They may regard this as a rather light subject to debate on, but their first judgment might be overruled by necessity. If, like the laws of the Medes, they change not, take courage, there is only one more year—after this one. If they do, well, the debate will be held in Convocation Hall, not 142.

The next regular meeting of the Alumni Association will be held in the Lounge, Athabasca Hall, on Thursday, Nov. 13th, at 8 p.m.

The committee appointed at the last meeting to gather information on the publishing of a magazine, will present their report. A discussion of the advisability of establishing a Press Bulletin in connection with the local papers will take place, led off by Mr. A. E. Ottewell, of the Extension Department.

That assistance may be promptly given to graduates seeking positions, the organization of the proper machinery for this purpose will take place at this meeting.

Arrangements are under way to have a speaker deliver an address on some subject of general interest to graduates. The name of the speaker has not been announced at time of going to press.

Musical numbers will round off what promises to be a splendid programme. Don't miss it.

our own men had had time to think out the matter.

This meeting was held in the Senate Chamber, and after a very frank discussion by both students and the President, it was decided that a delegate should be sent to co-operate with the delegates from other universities. The discussion brought out very clearly the impossibility of men working their way through university, and being able to make enough money in the Summer to see them through the winter course without some outside financial help. A point was made that a loan, rather than a grant, would be more acceptable to students and the sum varied from $250.05 to $400.00. Dr. Tory, by his handling of the meeting, showed his practical sympathy with their needs and promised that he would do all in his power to help the returned men in his own special difficulty.

Two delegates were nominated, Dr. Killam and Mr. Roy Stevens; and a meeting was arranged for Sunday, November 2nd, in the afternoon, to decide which of these two should represent the U. of A. Mr. Appleton was asked to draw up a rough scheme of the returned men's requirements.

At the Sunday meeting, it was definitely arranged that Dr. Killam be the representative; that he should press the claims for a loan, rather than a grant; and that if possible, the details of the loan, if the scheme be more favorably received by the government, be worked out by the Board of Governors of the University.

The scheme is roughly as follows: A loan of from $250 to $400 per year, redeemable within ten years; interest at 5 1-2 per cent., to begin three years from first payment. Students to present their claim to a joint board from University and Dominion Government, and only bona fide cases to be considered. As the sum asked for is only from 50 to 60 per cent. of the sum necessary to meet expenses during a winter's course, there is no feasibility of students being able to shirk from their own responsibility in regard to getting as much work as possible during summer months.

At the close of the meeting, Messrs. Nichol, Teviotdale and Appleton were asked to act as a committee of ways and means to provide funds for the expenses of the delegate, Mr. Nichol acting as chairman of the committee. With thanks being tendered to the Dr. Killam for his ready acceptance of the task, the returned men have set him, the meeting closed.

Since Sunday's meeting, the committee has met, and decided that the funds be raised by means of a dance to be held on Tuesday, November 11th. This will have special significance for the returned men, as this day is Armistice Day.

ALBERTA COLLEGE

As the reconstructionists tells us, we are living in great and stirring times, and developments in Alberta College convince us that these things be. For instance, to the surprise of all, "E.J." blossomed forth as a Romeo in an extempore sketch at A.C. at few evenings ago. The occasion was on Halloween, Friday, 31st, when, after vespers, the girls staged a suprise party for the gentlemen. Fancy costumes, old-time parlor games, a free-for-all sing-song, and charades, were the order of the evening, and, as the 'Varsity reporter says, a p-t-w-h.

Having read the 'Varsity sports items of last week, we take this opportunity of congratulating the 'Varsity Soccer team on the snowfall, so opportune for them. Sadly, we long for a benevolent thaw, however, as we would like to have the cup "for keeps."

The Choral Society has been organized in connection with the Literary Society, and we are fortunate in persuading Mr. Putland to take charge of the training. Some good social times will be held during the year, so they promise us, under their auspices, if we may be forgiven the use of a church pink-tea expression. The Choral Society will meet after vespers on Friday evenings.

A Bible Study Group has been organized for the theologues, and we hope to secure the efficient services of Mr. Berry as leader. The matriculation bible study group, with Mr. Laycock as leader, is proving a success. After all, the most important part of our education is to get a broad view and proper attitude towards the most important phases of national and social life, and this the Y.M.C.A. will help us to do; so fellows, come along to the bible study groups.

We understand that it was announced at Norwood Methodist Church that a "brilliant" student of A.C. was to hold forth on the following Sunday. Each of us suspected that we had been called upon by suprise, but final revelation showed that none of the really smart students was meant.

"Some things we never expect to see at Alberta College" have been enumerated by an observant onlooked and handed to the correspondent. These are they:

Tom Hart wrapped in silent thought.

Staley with a girl.

Warren preaching against popular amusements.

"Barney" showing a little speed.

Wells, with no hope for the morrow.

Bill Sykes last for meals.

Newton at the "Pan."

"G.O.C." Musto on time.

Corin with a new style hair-cut.

A certain young lady student without a queue.

ROBERTSON COLLEGE

The college has opened this session under the happiest auspices. The enrolment is nearly double that of last year, as a large number of the students who were absent overseas for several years, are again with us. To Messrs. Ogston, Driutt, Rainy, McAllister, H. Graham, Edgar, McKelvey, J. Graham, Morrison, Marshall and Taylor we extend a hearty welcome, and are more than delighted to see so many of the old boys again in the college, after rendering valuable service to the King and country. Messrs. J. Graham and Morrison, who, in former days, resided in the college, are now living in their own houses in the city, having joined the great army of blissful benedicts.

A short time ago the time-honored ceremony of initiating the freshmen was carried out in the lower regions of the college. One of the freshmen succeeded in escaping from his tormentors, and was reserved for future tortures. When the initiation was over, the freshmen had their wounded feelings soothed by being entertained by the seniors at a banquet held in one of the leading hotels on the south side.

As E. Beamish, president of the Students' Council for this year, has been employed by the Dominion Government, as Inspector of Lands, in connection with the Soldiers' Land Settlement, a new election was held and the following officers were elected.

President of Council—R. H. Lyttle.

Vice-President of Council—J. Edgar.

Secretary—S. Davies

Treasurer—J. McKelvey.

E. J. Rainy is working hard, and hopes to graduate next spring. Would it be possible to trace any connection between this and his mysterious absence from the college on certain evenings of the week. Good luck, Ed.

It is remarked that Messrs. Young and McKelvey are very active members in the choir of one of the city churches.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Sunday services in Convocation Hall are being well attended. Anyone who reads the report, on another page, of President Klinck's address of last Sunday, will realize that these services must be a great force in moulding student opinion and sentiment. There is always something about a University service which stimulates a student's loyalty to his Alma Mater. A service attended by a large percentage of the students strengthens the University spirit. It develops esprit de corps. It makes for unity and harmony. It creates a sense of responsibility for better and more Christian leadership, and finally it supplies a need that can be filled in no other way.

As the students value these things, let them attend the Sunday morning services.

Speaker for November 9th, A. U. G. Bury, Esq.

On Friday afternoon, Nov. 5th, at 5 p.m., we are to have with us Dr. J. Buchanan. From every source come reports that Dr. Buchanan has done splendid medical missionary work amongst the wild, mountain tribes of north India. He is a personality that cheers and convinces. His addresses inspire. We urge every student, whether interested in missions or not, to come to hear Dr. Buchanan; because we feel sure you will be interested in the man and the work he is doing. He describes the "men of the mountains," amongst whom his work is, as keen as mustard in all sports and eager to test out the leadership of Christ. The situation in India, from the political and imperial standpoint, is serious and no doubt Dr. Buchanan will have something extremely timely to say on these aspects of the Indian question.

Continuing the series of Reconstruction Meetings, which was organized last year, a number of meetings has been arranged for on alternate Wednesdays, immediately after dinner, in Room 142 Arts Building. On November 26th, the speaker will be Mr. Robert McCreath, a well-known labor leader, whose subject will deal directly with the "Community of Labor. On Dec. 3rd, Premier Stewart will discuss the "Political Community."

The plan for these meetings calls for an address of not more than thirty minutes, after which there will be time for discussion.

THE MANDOLINS ORGANIZE

The players of stringed instruments are organizing themselves into a stringed instrument band, and claim that they will supply the best music in the 'Varsity of any kind. This is an new venture for Alberta, but Mr. Luck, who has been secured as leader, has had much experience with University bands. Sinclair Budd and Ted Davis are fathering the movement and a very enthusiastic number have signified their willingness to join. While some of the players are experts, there is room for a limited number of beginners.

A band of this sort may be new, but Mr. Luck claims that it will be the best advertisement that the university can have. It will be the only band of its sort in the city, and whereas the orchestra has competition from professional orchestras, the Jazz Band will have no such competition and will fill a long felt want. He claims that the band will be able to play all kinds of music, sacred, profane or jazz.
